YWCA OF DELHI

YWCA since its inception in the late 19th century as an organization for women's welfare has grown into a widespread international network of great repute. Today it is the largest "Membership based Women's Movement" in the world that strives to act as a driving force to empower women, to demand justice and struggle against social, cultural, economic and political injustice. As inheritor of the Christian faith and heritage, it works towards initiating changes through a process of partnership in action.

THE VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS OF YWCA OF DELHI

The Women's Training Institute provides vocational education at undergraduate and post graduate levels to women in Delhi. The aim is to empower and impart skills training to women to make them independent and self-sufficient.

The Public Affairs and Social Issues department is responsible for gathering and dissemination of information regarding rights and justice concerns. It studies, analyses and advocates legislation and policies of Central and State Governments.

The Urban Development Project works for the uplift of women and children. Outreach programmes include Shelter Home, Community Centre, Family Counselling, Project for Street Children, vocational training and a Creche.

The Rural Development Project reaches out to various sections of society through civic education, health programmes, vocational training and Self Help Groups.

The Centenary Hostel for Working Women, Priyadarshini Working Women's Hostel, Rohini Working Women's Hostel and Jasola Working Women Hostel provide hostels for the working women of Delhi.

Matritava Chaya is a shelter home for pregnant and lactating destitute women.

The Blue Triangle Family Hostel provides safe and comfortable short stay accommodation for domestic and international travellers. Funds generated from this service is used for the various Projects and Programmes of the YWCA of Delhi.

The Fund Raising and Publicity department aims at raising funds for the various outreach programmes through the Chrysanthemum Show and Short Term Courses.

The Membership and Programme Department aims to develop an active, vibrant and responsive membership. Its activities focus on the needs of women in the community. It organizes issue based empowerment programmes.

The Religious Education Department organizes faith based and inter-faith dialogues and programmes.

The Youth Committee aims to develop leadership qualities in the youth and make them active participants in the 'Y' movement.
